RE: 4240 SW 63 AVE
1/23/2009

Dear Town of Davie

At the beginning of this process, the property was worth $130,000. According to my realtor, it is now worth $50,000-$70,000, if we could find a buyer.

I have to pay money out of my pocket each month to make the payment. I owe $90,000 on the property and have spent well over $20,000, bringing it to code (after demolishing 2 sheds, 2 sections of the home and other things).

Therefore, I'm trying to decide whether to walk away from the house and give it back to the bank or do my best to resolve this fine.

There is NO way I will be able to pay $143,000.

If we are unable to reach an agreement that I can afford to pay, I'm going to have to give the property back to the bank and it will probably sit vacant for years until they can unload it.

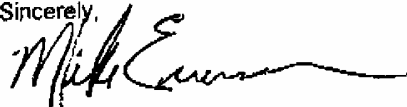

The property is in reasonably good repair and I would like to keep it and maintain it, but when I have $120,000 investment, that is worth $ 50,000- $70,000, my options are limited.

The most I can afford to pay is $1000.00-$2000.00. I understand if that doesn't fit in the parameters of what you are able to do. I would like to find a solution to put this nightmare behind us.

As you are already aware, I live in North Carolina and rarely get to come to the area and this is why I have Brian Head as my property manager to take care of things for me. With the exception of him missing the first hearing, he has been great with coordinating the work and making sure it was done properly. I know the property has been in compliance for over 6 months now and he has been trying to work with your office to resolve this, but he keeps getting put off and told he will be contacted and then nothing happens.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,

Mike Emerson

Town of Davie:
RE: 4240 Sw 63 Ave- Emerson

I am the property manager for the above referenced property, as most of you are aware. When first notified about the compliance issues, I did respond and handled the things that were easy for me to take care of without a huge expense on the owner's behalf.

The other issues were quite major (in expense and required workmanship) and I needed time to find the right people to do the job, get the necessary permits, etc. Quite frankly, this was my first experience with such a HUGE task. In the beginning, I didn't fully understand the jargon used on the citations and didn't realize we needed to demolish to sections of the home.

I was aware we needed to demolish the sheds and that was another huge job and the demolition companies we quoting me $12,000 or more to do the job...it was absurd.

I finally got a referral of a guy that did the job for much less and we did an owner/builder permit for it and got it done.

I explained to the code enforcement, the house was this way when Mr. Emerson bought it and I was trying to find an original survey of the home to see how it was when built. The town of Davie, Broward Co, and Mr. Emerson had no such records. We decided to go ahead and demolish those sections and this involved several permits, a licensed plumber, licensed electrician and was VERY expensive. We also needed to put sod in the front yard and remove a tree stump in the back. At this point I had to hit the owner up for more than $20,000.00.

As you know, most people that have a wood frame house like this one (and they already owe more than what it is worth), could never afford to spend this type of money to repair a home that is functionally obsolete and not desirable to most buyers.

It was a huge mistake on my part to miss the initial hearing, as I recorded the date as one week later in my planner on accident. I did call the Town of Davie the next week to set up a new one and appreciated they did. Of course, the house still was not in compliance, given the huge amount of work that we had to do.

Once I finished everything, the inspector (David Knotman) came out and said....it looks really good, but you need a couple more things....and this happened 4 times before he put the property into compliance. The property was put into full compliance well over 6 months ago and I have been trying since then, to get an updated amount of the fine or some sort of hearing to put this issue to rest.

Re: 4240 SW 63 AVE

After numerous calls over this period, I finally got the fax this morning with the amount of the fine, which is at least 2.5 times more than what the property is worth....maybe even 3 times.

If you look at the property now, it has a nice curb appeal and appears to be much nicer than some of the homes close by.

I don't think Mr. Emerson should be so heavily penalized for something I was trying my best to handle for him. We NEVER imagined anyone would try to collect such an enormous amount and not give us an option of a reasonable fine first.

I really hope there is something we can do to resolve this and I think that Mike Emerson has be penalized A LOT already, by sinking more than $20,000 in less than one year into a property he already owes $90,000 on. We all know how the market is right now and you would be much better off for him to hold onto the property and pay a reasonable fine, instead of him letting it go into foreclosure.

Brian Head

Re: Michael J. Emerson-Mitigation Request
4240 SW 63rd Avenue, Davie, Florida
Case No. 06-1225

Dear Mr. Stallone:

This mitigation request was heard on February 24, 2009. All violations of the Davie Town Code were corrected at the time of the final hearing. The fines have accumulated to the amount of $178,000.00

The Respondent resides in North Carolina and has had to rely on Mr. Brian Head, his property manager to maintain his property. According to Mr. Emerson, the property has a value of between $50,000 to $70,000 if it can be sold, and an outstanding mortgage of $90,000.00. Mr. Emerson would prefer to keep the property and maintain it and not turn it over to the lender, but he cannot afford to pay the lien. If Mr. Emerson retains ownership of the property it is anticipated that it will be maintained by Mr. Head and that there will not be any further code enforcement issues.

Mr. Head testified that there were approximately $20,112.40 in total expenses incurred by Mr. Emerson in bringing the property into compliance. This included repairs to the interior and exterior, the necessity of obtaining electrical, plumbing and demolition permits, demolition of two buildings and two portions of the home, and the loss of rental income due to the construction. It appears that when Mr. Emerson bought the property it was not in compliance with the Town of Davie Code 8-16, but this was unknown to him at the time of purchase. The original survey of the property could not be located by Mr. Head or the Town of Davie.

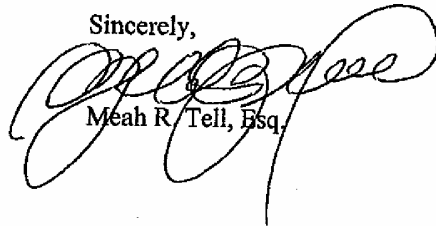

Unfortunately, Mr. Head did not appear at the Code Enforcement Hearing at which the lien was imposed due to an emergency at another property for which he was responsible, and, apparently, did not request a continuance of the matter.

According to Mr. Head, Mr. Emerson relied upon Mr. Head to handle the code enforcement issues for him. Most of the delay in compliance appears to be related to the time in which it took for Mr. Head to bring the property into compliance due to construction related delays. Mr. Head notes that on at least four occasions the Code Enforcement Inspector advised him that additional work need to be done to bring the property in compliance, and that he remained in touch with the Code Compliance Division trying to achieve compliance.

Mr. Emerson has requested that the lien be mitigated to $2,000.00.

Based upon the foregoing, it appears that the lien should be mitigated to the amount of $2,000.00. This should cover the actual administrative costs of the Town of Davie and should keep the property out of foreclosure.

Sincerely,
